

Particle Count in UTD's NSERL Engineering Clean Room. This is the lithography bay in which there is rather intense people activity, thus the particle count is high during working hours (color bands). Note that the Class 10,000 particles per cubic foot designation is based on 0.5 micron sized particles